We work with some great venues in and around London, if none of them meet your requirements then we can source alternatives. Our experience within the industry and position of Event Agents means that we can take up more in depth negotiations, deal with the venue on your behalf and with catering experience can identify whether a venue is operating appropriately.

We look at finding venues for corporate companies to host events such as; christmas/summer parties, meetings/conferences, exhibitions, product launches and team days etc.

Finesse Event Design Services

As well as venue sourcing and planning we love to design bespoke decor like this picture to the left.

We take a blank canvas venue and work to design a setting that fits with our clients brief.

After a free consultation, we put the wheels into motion by establishing a budget, then producing a proposal for you to see our vision and discuss all possible options and variations. Once all confirmed, we will then source the required materials and manage all deliveries so that you can sit back and know that your event is all in hand.

Please note pictures are for demonstration purposes only and may vary from packages listed, clients will be presented with what is listed in the chosen package. Stock is subject to change.

We will keep you updated on all proceedings, you can have as much or as little input and control as you wish.
